

David Alan Carmichael

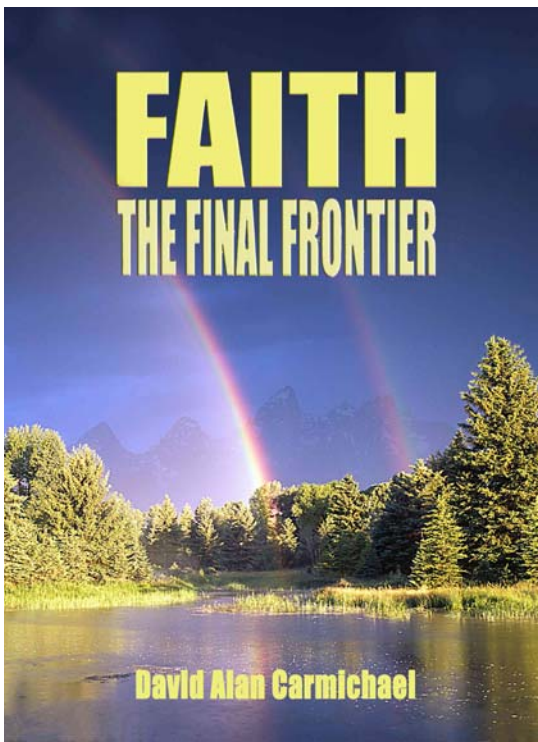

Minister, Author, Speaker

Through Freedom Ministries, David speaks to churches and civic groups about his series of topics relating to “Faith For Last Days Living.” Two topics designed to inspire and equip his audiences are “Overcoming the Fear of Faith” and “An Advanced Study in Biblical Patriotism”.

David’s expertise comes from first hand application. He began his public ministry through Educational Christian Ministries in 1997. There, he provided free computer classes to meet physical needs for job skill training. During each class, he gave his students inspiring messages and Biblical counseling that led many to the Lordship of Jesus Christ.

Parallel to his missions/evangelism ministry, David has been working to secure and protect religious liberty in America. He formed the American Christian Liberty Society as a ministry to those who’s Christian convictions and practices are threatened by government intrusions. He provides Biblical counseling to its members, performs legal research, and develops strategy for litigators.

David’s book, Faith – The Final Frontier, was published in June, 2004. It is a true-life faith thriller where the reader can share the experience of his tests, temptations, trials, tragedies, and ultimate triumphs. One avid reader stated, “It is the most exciting book that I have read in twenty years.” Another reader commented, “I have never been able to read a book all the way through before his.” Several readers said, “Once I started reading it, I could not put it down.”

David Alan Carmichael lives in Hampton, Virginia, with his wife Leslie, and his four children Bethany, Jesse, Isaac, and Abigail (Abby). His ministry is now devoted full-time under the banner of Freedom Ministries. Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.
